BURGlar IN COURT AUDIENCE.

Pal Points Him Out and Sets Free Victim of Police Blunder.

The police of the West Sixty-eighth street station house have had a lot of flat robberies reported lately. They arrested Philip Vaughn and Samuel Smith, both negroes, and they got evidence against Edward Curtis, who, they say, is the third member of a party responsible for some of the robberies at least. Policemen Kahn and Devaney went out and arrested La Fayette Curtis, a bell boy in the Hotel Savoy, as the one who was wanted.

Vaughn and Smith were both held for trial yesterday morning in the West Side court. Smith was just leaving the courtroom for the prison when he pointed out a negro sitting among the spectators.

"There's Curtis out in the crowd," he told Policemen Kahn. "You haven't got the right Curtis arrested."

Curtis was brought inside the rail in a hurry, identified by one of the complainants, and arraigned in place of the wrong one.
He waived examination and was held for trial for burglary.

"I guess he'll stay away from courtrooms in the future when he is not compelled to enter them," observed the Court.

The police apologized to the innocent Curtis, and he was discharged.

Farmer Hangs Himself in Erie Basin.

SARATOGA, March 10.—Robert D. Morehouse, a Greenfield farmer and a dealer in agricultural machinery, hanged himself with a halter in his barn near Locust Grove to-day. He was 52 years old and suffered from melancholia. His wife and three daughters survive him.

ALL TO ONE DAUGHTER.

The Other Children Will Dispute Mrs.
Hester H. Collins's Will.

By her will, filed for probate yesterday, Mrs. Hester H. Collins, who died on February 24, left all her $10,000 estate to her daughter, Hester Collins Lord, and out of another daughter, Alice R. Putraw, with $5 and her only son, Luther H. Springer, with $1.

Mrs. Collins wrote of Mrs. Putraw that she had "given me no help or assistance." Of the son she wrote that she had seen him but little in 20 years, "nor was he of any help or assistance to me, but the cause of lots of trouble."

Mr. Springer lives at 518 Manhattan avenue. Mrs. Putraw lives at 286 Anthony avenue. Mrs. Collins died in Mrs. Putraw's home. Both son and daughter say that when their mother signed her will on December 16 last she was of unsound mind. They intend to contest it.

SHIELDS KEEPS THE PEACE.

Large Force of Henkel's Deputies in Front of Comstock's Eye.

The case of Anthony Comstock against Ernest Richards, the Frenchman accused of using the United States mails for illegal purposes, went on peacefully in the Federal Building yesterday. Hugh Gordon Miller, Richards's attorney, didn't offer any apology for having punched Anthony Comstock in the eye the day before and the later made no reference to the affray, so that the audience that had gathered in expectation of another encounter were disappointed. Commissioner Shields had present an imposing array of United States Marshals and their deputies on behalf of the people of the United States and their dignity. Commissioner Shields continued Richards's bail and reserved his decision.

SEALER BURNED IN PORT.

Crew of the Enterprise Brought Here
From Brazil.

The steamship Titian, in yesterday from Rio, had on board fourteen seamen, the crew of the sailing schooner Enterprise, which sailed from Halifax, N. S., on October 2, bound for the South Atlantic on a sealing trip. The Enterprise had hard luck. Seals were scarce and the weather was bad, and when she put into Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, on January 23 she had only 500 skins aboard. On that day Arthur Barry, one of the hunters, died and was buried ashore. Two days later, while most of the crew were ashore, the schooner took fire from the galley fire and was totally destroyed. The crew lost everything and the British Consul sent them back to Halifax on the Titian. The Enterprise was an old vessel of 70 tons burden.

ADAMS ADAMS ADAMS

50,000 Yards of New Silks

At Prices Lower Than Have Been Named at Any Previous Time.

We have some very large figures in Silks to go against this season, for exactly one year ago we inaugurated the largest department and the most intense selling that this city had ever known.

To duplicate the record of a year ago, we shall place on sale to-morrow—and for this week—a splendid lot of distinctly new Silks—bought for the Spring season of 1906—and offered at prices which will create a new low record.

We firmly believe our Silk merchandise is BETTER, and our prices LOWER than those of any other house hereabouts. We certainly have the largest and best selected stock for you to choose from.
And the prices we have attached to everything will bear out the above statements.

Another Sale of Robes

With Prices Less than Heretofore

We have been the largest purchasers of Lace, Net, Mull and Linen Robes in New York this season, having bought and sold thousands. We still have the most complete assortment of styles and models in town.

All the Robes now here, however, must leave us quickly—and we have cut former low prices until they bear no relationship whatsoever to what have been the most startling values in the city.

Included in the collection we shall offer to-morrow are Summer Robes of all kinds, such as mull, batiste, lawn hand-embroidered linen, handkerchief linen, English eyelet, butcher linen, batiste and Irish lace combinations.

$15 Robes at $7.98
$20 Robes, $11.25
$25 Robes, $13.50
$30 Robes, $16.25
$45 Robes, $19.75

came from abroad. We know the superiority of the foreign product in this line. It means daintier patterns, finer work and more original designs. 1st Floor.

Women's "Patrician" Oxfords are sold, as you know, the world over for $3 and $3.50. In fact, it is considered almost impossible to break the price of them—for "Patricians" are worth every cent of the prices asked.

We have made arrangements with the "Patrician" factory, however, to unload our present floor stock of Oxfords—at a greatly reduced price—before the Spring stock comes dancing in.

Shoe styles (especially Oxfords) change but little, and there is practically no variance between these and the ones to come later on. The line of styles and sizes is complete, representing everything from 2 1/2

SETTLING ILL. CENTRAL CLAIMS.

Partial Agreement Reached by President Fish and Gov. Deenen.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 10.—A conference was held here to-day between Gov. Deenen, President Stevenson Fish and other officials of the Illinois Central Railroad regarding the tax to be paid by that road.

The conference was held to discuss a number of the claims presented by the State against the railroad. It is understood that the State and the railroad company reached an agreement as to the manner of computation of some of the items and on others they disagreed as to the law.
Upon still other matters no agreement could be reached, the railroad requesting time for investigation and consultation.

After the conference Mr. Fish and party returned to Chicago on a special train.
